Resolution in support of student RSCW

Tyler Engstrom and Skylar Klocker, for senate discussion on 2/12/2024

None; to be sent as information item to university administration.

With recent added scrutiny on all university travel, Faculty Senate wants to reaffirm our position that undergraduate and graduate student travel for the purpose of dissemination of research, scholarship, and creative works has _____ for students and is _____ for their faculty advisors if the workloads of the latter include professional activity.

Research, Scholarship, and Creative Works are essential to the mission of the University of Northern Colorado. The Board Adopted Mission Values states that, "The University strives to be a leading student-centered university that promotes effective teaching, lifelong learning, the advancement of knowledge, research, and a commitment to service." Promoting the "advancement of knowledge" and research is also explicitly cited in the 2030 Rowing Not Drifting strategic plan, wherein it is affirmed that, "Scholarship is an essential part of informed learning occurring in and out of the classroom." As a university that adopts the teacher/scholar model, scholarship is a fundamental component of promoting excellence in teaching and is required to make the university truly Students First.

Foundational to scholarship is its dissemination. A primary method of dissemination is through participation at academic conferences. _____
