

For a course to be designated MS, at least four of these seven SLOs must be addressed in content and assessments.

MS SLO # The student will be able to:	EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS	MEETS EXPECTATIONS	DOES NOT MEET EXPECTATIONS
Discuss the diversity of experiences and perspectives of individuals and groups with a wide range of identities (including but not limited to race, gender, economic class, sexual orientation, physical ability, religion, language, age, and/or national identity) and their contributions to educational, social, legal, religious, political, and/or cultural institutions and society. Explain the social, political, historical, cultural, and/or economic impact of at least one cultural group in terms of the	Interprets the significance of experience and perspective on the contributions of diverse individuals and groups	Identifies how the diversity of experiences and perspectives of individuals and groups have contributed to educational, social, legal, religious, political, and/or cultural institutions and society	Fails to address the diversity of experiences and perspectives and/or the contributions of diverse individuals and groups. global) of power that create and/or perpetuate oppression, privilege, or marginalization and how these systems present barriers to equity and inclusion.

create and/or perpetuate oppression, privilege, or marginalization and how these systems present barriers to equity and inclusion.

create and/or perpetuate oppression, privilege, or marginalization and how these systems present barriers to equity and inclusion.

elides